Trading certain financial products such as derivatives (for example, CFDs) and foreign exchange contracts on margin carries a high level of risk which may not be suitable for all investors. The high degree of leverage can work against you as well as for you. Before opening an account with Quad Code, you should carefully consider your level of experience, investment objectives and risk appetite. You need to be aware of the possibility that you could incur a loss which is in excess of your deposited funds – as such, you should not invest money that you cannot afford to lose. You should be aware of all the risks associated with trading derivatives and foreign exchange contracts, and seek further advice from an independent professional advisor if you have any concerns.

It is important to note that you do not own or have rights in the underlying assets.

You should consider whether you are part of our target market by reviewing our Target Market Determination to ensure you fully understand the risks before you make any trading decisions.
