- 2.5. In the event that a technical misconfiguration or failure of any kind results in the incorrect amount of Bonus being credited to your Account, the Company reserves the right to rectify this by removing/debiting any incorrect Bonus

- credited and re-crediting the Bonus with the correct amount. No consent will be required from the Client in order for the Company to proceed per this clause.
- 2.6. 3. Activation and Cancellation Requirements

- 3.1. In order to participate in the Deposit Bonus Scheme and activate the Deposit Bonus, all following conditions and/or requirements must be met, the Client:
 - 3.1.1. must accept the present Policy,
 - 3.1.2. must enable the Deposit Bonus button available via the Account. If the button is not activated, then this scheme will not be activated and no Bonus will be credited to the Account on the immediate next deposit of the Client

(the above referred to as the Activation).

- 3.2. Subject to 3.1.1, the Deposit Bonus is calculated and credited immediately after the immediate next deposit made following Activation and the amount can be used to trade.
- 3.3. A Client will not be eligible for Activation and therefore may be rejected by the Company in circumstances like the ones described in clause 2.6 above.
- 3.4. Following Activation, a Deposit Bonus shall be calculated against the amount of the immediate next deposit made after Activation (Activation Deposit). No Deposit Bonus shall be credited and/or calculated against any current Account balance or against any deposit made following the Activation Deposit.
- 3.5. IMPORTANT: Following Activation and credit of the Deposit Bonus, the Client will not be able to make any withdrawals (whether these may relate to deposits and/or earnings, current or future), unless (i) he/she reaches the Trading Volume and closes all open trades/positions OR (ii) if the Trading Volume is not reached, but the Client wishes to withdraw, then she/he must (a) close all open trades/positions and (b) Opt-out and Cancel the Activation of the Deposit Bonus Scheme (collectively (ii) to be referred to as Cancellation).
- 3.6. The Trading Volume calculation:

 - 3.6.2. If at one expiration there are trades in opposite directions, then the volumes of all transactions of this expiration are not taken into account at all.
 - 3.6.3. The trades with “equal” result (the strike price equal to the price Expiry) and trades closed using buyout / buyback option, are not counted in the calculation of the Trading Volume.
- 3.7. Clients cannot Activate and/or use and/or combine the Deposit Bonus with any other promotional offers.

4. Withdrawals

- 4.1. The Client can Cancel the Activation of the Deposit Bonus Scheme at any time if there are no open trades. In case of a Cancellation (where Trading Volume is not met), the Company shall re-adjust the Client’s balance by calculating the Client’s remaining deposited funds and a proportion of the profits made by the funds deposited by the Client but will deduct the Deposit Bonus amount and any profit made out of the use of the Deposit Bonus. In other words, in case of Cancellation, the Company shall not be liable to pay the full balance of the Account as it will appear then, including without limitation the Deposit Bonus amount and/or all the profit generated by the use of the Deposit Bonus.
- 4.2. The Client shall be able to withdraw profits earned from trading in addition to the Deposit Bonus, only and when the Client successfully reaches the Trading Volume, closes all open trades and clicks on “cancel bonus” to stop using the Bonus and calculate the available withdrawal amount.
