This indemnity shall survive termination of this Agreement.
- (2) The Company shall not be liable for any loss, expense, cost or liability incurred by the Client in relation to this Agreement, unless such loss, expense, cost or liability is resulted from gross negligence, willful default or fraud by the Company. Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph 7.1 above, the Company shall have no liability to the Client whether in Agreement, tort (including negligence), breach of statutory duty, or otherwise, for any loss of profit, or for any indirect or consequential loss arising under or in connection with the Agreement.
- (3) The Company shall not be liable for any loss of opportunity as a result of which the value of the Financial Instruments of the Client could have been increased or for any decrease in the value of the Financial Instruments of the Client, regardless of the cause, unless such loss is directly due to gross negligence, willful default or fraud on the part of the Company.

8. Execution of Orders

- (1) By accepting this Agreement, the Client accepts that he has read and understood all provisions of this Agreement and related information on the Website. The Client accepts and understands that all Orders received shall be executed by the Company as the counterparty of the transaction in its capacity of Market Maker. The Company shall act as a principal and not as an agent on the Client's behalf for the purpose of the Execution of Orders. The Client is informed that Conflicts of Interest may arise because of this model, and further details can be found in the Company's Conflict of Interest Policy.
- (2) The Client authorizes the Company to rely on and act in accordance with any Order, which appears to have been placed (and has been reasonably accepted as such by the Company) by the Client in accordance with the provisions of Clause 16.
- (3) The Client may transmit Orders to the Company via the Trading Platform or in such other manner as it may be specified from time to time, provided the Company is satisfied, at its absolute discretion, as to the identity of the person placing the Order as well as for the validity of the Order.
- (4) The Client agrees that:
 - (i) the Company may record all telephone conversations between the Client and the Company's employees or representatives,

 - (c) the risk that the Orders may be placed by unauthorized persons, and agrees to indemnify the Company in full for any loss incurred as a result of acting in accordance with such Orders. The Client accepts that during the execution of his Orders, the Company shall have no responsibility as to its content or the identity of the person placing the Order, except for gross negligence, willful default or fraud by the Company.

- (d) The risk that the Client's trading account can be hacked by another individual and/or the Client's trading account can be used by someone without the Client's permission, and in this case, the Client agrees and accepts the following:
- (i) The Client is responsible to notify the Company immediately that his account was "hacked" and/or used by someone without the Client's permission (hereinafter collectively referred to as "unauthorized access");
 - (ii) The Company will not be held responsible for any unauthorized access to the Client's trading account and/or for not identifying that the Client's account was accessed in a way that it is considered unauthorized access;
 - (iii) Where the Company identifies and/or where the Client notifies the Company that his account was accessed in a way that is considered unauthorized access, the Company reserves the right to block immediately the Client's trading account without prior notification to the Client and the Client will not be entitled to any profits made during the time that his account was accessed without authorisation.
- (9) The Client acknowledges that the Company, at its own discretion, under certain market conditions and in particular where it has reached or surpassed internal exposure levels, may have to close all or a part of the Client's positions in CFD contracts with cryptocurrencies as underlying assets. The Company undertakes to provide adequate notification to the Client in case a CFD position will be closed by the Company and shall provide no less than 5 (five) working days notice before proceeding with the closing of the position.
- (10) The Client agrees and understands that the availability of the CFD contracts it makes available to its Clients for trading depends on the availability and/or the trading conditions of the underlying asset on the relevant Market and where for any reason a discontinuance and/or a suspension of the operation of the relevant Market and/or in case of trading interruption of an asset on the relevant Market occurred and as a consequence renders the underlying asset unavailable, the Company reserves the right to cancel and/or close the Client's positions on the said underlying asset by giving prior notification to the Client and/or notify the Client to close his/her positions within a given timeframe set by the Company.
- (11) The Company reserves the right in its capacity as the manufacturer of the Financial Instruments that it makes available to its Clients for trading, in justified circumstances, at its absolute discretion, to suspend the trading of any Financial Instrument that is available for trading and also cancel any of the said Financial Instruments.

The Company shall exercise this right in any of the following circumstances:

- (a) In the case of certain Corporate Actions affecting the underlying instruments of the Financial Instruments that it makes available to its Clients for Trading. Such Corporate Actions include, but are not limited to:
- (i) stock splits including reverse splits,
 - (ii) mergers and acquisitions,
 - (iii) rights issues,
 - (iv) Contingent Value Rights (CVRs),
 - (v) bonus shares issues,
 - (vi) scrip dividend distributions,
 - (vii) spinoffs,
 - (viii) name or trading symbol changes,

(ix) liquidation.

The Company maintains the right, immediately and without any prior notice, to suspend the trading of, close any and all relevant positions and terminate the affected Financial Instruments at the following Cutoff Times:

- At the time the Corporate Action is announced
 - Where applicable, on the “Cum Date”, that is, the working day before the underlying instrument is traded excluding the benefit of the Corporate Action (the “Ex Date”)
 - Where applicable, on the Record Date, that is, on the cut-off date established by the issuer of the underlying instrument in Order to determine which stakeholders are eligible to benefit from or subjected to, the Corporate Action.
 - the Payment Date, that is, on the date the value of the Corporate Action is paid
 - any other date to be decided by the Company and notified to Clients
- (b) Immediately and without prior notice, where it is publicly available that a specific issuer of underlying assets of Financial Instruments the Company is making available to Clients for trading has filed and/or is in the process of filing for Chapter 11 under US bankruptcy law and/or an equivalent to Chapter 11 action related to bankruptcy and/or bankruptcy law under any national legislation/regulations.
- (c) Immediately and without prior notice when the trading conditions of the underlying assets of the Financial Instruments the Company is making available to Clients for trading on the Trading Venues where the said underlying assets are traded become erratic or irregular. Trading conditions are erratic or irregular indicatively when:
- There are frequent interruptions to the trading process
 - Trading is suspended frequently and / or for long periods of time
 - There is extreme volatility
 - There is low liquidity and trading interest
- (d) Immediately and without prior notice, when it is reasonably assessed by the Company that the features of the affected Financial Instruments do not match the characteristics of the designated target market.
- (e) When there is no sufficient interest on the part of the Company’s Clients for particular Financial Instruments or when the Company is having difficulty in hedging the positions acquired as a result of Clients trading the said Financial Instruments. In such cases, reasonable notice will be given to Clients.

Any decision by the Company to suspend the trading of any Financial Instrument that it makes available to Clients for trading and / or to cancel such Financial Instruments will be notified to Clients before the Cutoff Time, where applicable. The timing of such notifications will depend on the particular circumstances of the events that have led to the decision of the Company to suspend the trading of and / or cancel the affected Financial Instruments and in certain cases, the notice period may be short or due for immediate execution.

Any such notification shall specify as a minimum the Cutoff Time, the decision of the Company to suspend the trading of and / or the cancellation of the affected Financial Instruments and the reasons for it and that any Client positions in the affected Financial Instruments will be closed by the Company at the last available price on the Trading Platform prior to or at the Cutoff Time, as the case may be.

The Company shall not be held liable for any losses incurred by Clients in relation to the aforesaid closure of the position(s) and/or the suspension of the trading and / or the cancellation of the affected Financial Instruments.

- (12) The payment of cash dividend by the issuer of stocks that form the underlying asset for Financial Instruments that are made available by the Company to Clients for trading and the payment of coupon by the issuer of bonds and debentures that form the underlying asset of such Financial Instruments has the effect of intrinsically reducing the price of such stocks and bonds by an amount that is proportionate to the actual value of the cash dividend or coupon to be distributed. The adjustment in the price of the underlying assets occurs on the Ex-Date, that is the date on which the affected underlying assets are traded without the benefit of the declared dividend or coupon payment. In addition the following shall be applicable at all times:
- (a) Clients who hold positions in CFDs are not entitled to any cash dividend distributions or coupon payments since such Financial Instruments are derivative Financial Instruments that do not result in any holding or ownership of the underlying assets. Notwithstanding this, Clients who have open positions in CFDs are affected, negatively in the case of Clients who hold long positions and positively in the case of Clients who hold short positions on the affected Financial Instruments by the downward adjustment of the price of the underlying assets that occurs on the Ex-Date.
 - (b) In the case of Clients who hold a long position on any of the affected Financial Instruments on the Ex-Date, the Company shall, by the Payment Date, credit the account of such Clients by an amount equal to the notional amount of dividend or coupon that corresponds to the number of underlying assets corresponding to the position of the Client in Financial Instruments, adjusted by deducting, where relevant, any amount of tax payable by the Company on dividend or coupon income. Any such amounts credited to the account of Clients will appear in the Statement of Account of affected Clients under the Swaps / Dividends section.
 - (c) In the case of Clients who hold a short position on any of the affected Financial Instruments on the Ex-Date, the Company shall, by the Payment Date, debit (charge) the account of such Clients by an amount equal to the notional amount of dividend or coupon that corresponds to the number of underlying assets corresponding to the absolute value of the position of the Client in Financial Instruments, adjusted by deducting, where relevant, any amount of tax payable by the Company on dividend or coupon income. Any such amounts debited to the account of Clients will appear in the Statement of Account of affected Clients under the Swaps / Dividends section.

Any delay on the part of the Company, for any reason, to charge the Client for the amount of notional dividend or notional coupon shall not negate or invalidate the obligation of the Client to pay the Company for such amounts.

Clients who have short positions or which intent to create short positions in Financial Instruments the underlying assets of which are due to pay dividend or coupon are obliged to maintain sufficient amounts of funds in their account to be able to make the payment to the Company of the notional amount of Dividend or Coupon when due. The Company reserves the right to refuse the execution of any instructions by the Client for the withdrawal of funds from the Client's Trading Account, either totally or partially, when an obligation of the Client to pay to the Company the notional amount of dividend or coupon that accrues to any short positions the Client has in Financial Instruments the underlying assets of which are due to pay cash dividend or coupon is imminently due.

Notwithstanding any obligation of Clients to maintain sufficient money balances in their account, the Company reserves the right, at any point of time after the announcement of the payment of dividend or coupon, or from a period of up to one (1) month prior to the Ex-Date when the coupon Record Date is scheduled and known in advance, as the case may be, in the case of Clients who have or create a short position on any Financial Instruments the underlying assets of which are due to pay dividend or coupon, to block an amount of money equal to the notional amount of dividend or coupon that corresponds to the positions of such Clients. The amount blocked will be adjusted, whenever relevant, based on the position of such Clients at the close of the relevant trading session.

Whenever the balance of money in the Client's account is less than the amount of money that needs to be blocked, the Company shall take the following actions:

- (i) Inform the Client accordingly that the balance in his account needs to be increased if the Client is to maintain his short position(s) at that level

If the Client does not respond or does not take any action to bring the balance in line with his short position(s), the Company may, at its absolute discretion, take any of the following actions:

- (ii) liquidate, wholly or partially, any long positions of the Client, at its absolute discretion, to bring the balance to at least the required level.
- (iii) Void the transactions that have created the short positions, by annulling the positions and reversing any credits or debits to the Clients' account from the said transactions.

Notwithstanding whether the Company exercises its right to block Clients' funds as per the previous paragraphs, when the obligation to pay the amount of notional dividend or coupon to the Company vests on the Ex Date, Clients shall have sufficient balance of money in their account to cover for the charge. The Company shall have the right to set-off such payable amount and therefore shall charge the Client for the amount of notional dividend or notional coupon and if the balance in the Client account is not sufficient, the Client will have a negative balance and be in debt to the Company for the same amount, since the negative balance protection accorded to Retail Clients does not apply in such cases.

Affected Clients will be called to pay their debt to the Company and a timeframe will be set for the settlement of the said debt. If the set timeframe lapses and the debt to the Company is not settled, the Company will:

- (iv) Make recourse to clause 27B of the Agreement and terminate this Agreement immediately, close all open positions, block the Client's account, and return any remaining funds (if applicable) without giving prior notice or

- (v) In case the Client does not have any long positions, the Company will void the transactions that have created the Client's short position(s) and reverse any related monetary credits or debits made to the Client's account.

If the measures of paragraphs (iv) and (v) hereabove do not suffice, the Company reserves the right to take legal action against the Client for the recovery of any amounts due to it.

- (13) In case a Manifest Error has occurred, the Company may refuse the execution of any Orders on the affected Financial Instruments. In the case of Orders executed on terms affected by a Manifest Error, the Company reserves the right, without the need for the Client's consent and without prior notice to void any transaction affected by the Manifest Error.

In the absence of fraud, willful default or negligence of the part of the Company, the Company shall not be liable to affected Clients for any loss following off-market prices and / or a Manifest Error, including cases where the error lies with any liquidity provider and / or price feeder upon which the Company places reliance.

If a Client has already withdrawn the proceeds from a transaction that was done in Manifest Error or affected by such an error, the Client shall return immediately the proceeds of the transaction to the Company or otherwise make an equal amount of money available to the Company for the repayment of the obligation due.

- (14)(i) If Clients execute transactions falling within the definition of Market Abuse or execute trading strategies in bad faith, including acting in any other way to abuse and/or gain any unfair advantages over the Company or any other Clients when using the Trading Platform or the Company's Services, the Company shall consider this as improper or abusive behaviour.

(ii) Should the Company determine, at its sole discretion and in good faith, that the Clients are taking advantage, benefitting, attempting to take advantage of the terms and conditions of this Agreement and any of the protections accorded to Retail Clients or that they are committing any other improper or abusive trading, including but not limited to:

- (a) fraud/illegal actions in any transactions, whether executed in your name and account or otherwise;
- (b) use of an automated data entry system, mass data entry system, any electronic devices, robots, high speed trading system, or any kind of software or program, or automated software algorithms which might manipulate or otherwise abuse our Trading Platform or give Clients an unfair advantage versus the Company or other Clients;
- (c) Orders placed based on manipulated prices
- (d) arbitrage trading on prices posted through our Trading Platform due to systems errors or any other arbitrage practices (including but not limited to latency abuse), price manipulation or time manipulation, including but not limited to that which aims to manipulate or take unfair advantage of the way in which we construct, provide or convey our bid or offer price;

- (e) acting on the Client's own or in concert with other Clients and / or other third parties in order to take advantage of systems and make a profit by exploiting the protections accorded to Retail Clients, such as the Negative Balance Protection, and / or certain features of the Trading Platform, such as the "Stop-loss order", as well as any other action(s), including those coordinated between different clients and/or acting in concert with other parties aimed at making profit by abusing the Trading Platform and the Company's Services.

Such practices shall include, but are not limited to "mirror transactions", that is the practice of opening a long position and a short position in relation to the same Financial Instrument, opened with insignificant time difference and/or difference in prices on either the same device and/or on multiple devices from one and the same IP-address but with the use of different Accounts (created in the name of different persons), with the aim of making a profit on the profitable positions (either the long or the short position) and forfeiting the loss on the loss making position by exploiting the Negative Balance Protection accorded to Retail Clients;

- (f) Orders placed with the use of inside information (i.e. abusive exploitation of privileged confidential information, the misuse of information or insiders trading Financial Instruments that have as underlying asset shares of their own companies);
- (g) any other unfair, abusive, manipulative, or illegal way of using the Company's Services or Trading Platform or the use of any device, software, program, algorithm or any trading strategy that aims to manipulate or take unfair advantage of the Company's Trading Platform or Services, then the Company will have the right to:

- (i) Impose special conditions prior to any events, such as earnings announcements, that might facilitate or enable any of the abusive practices of paragraphs (a) to (g) here above. Such special conditions include but are not limited to increasing the minimum initial margin required to open a position, restrict the opening of new positions or restrict the opening of short positions on certain Financial Instruments.

The Company shall notify Clients in advance about the imposition of any special conditions. The Company shall have the right, at its absolute discretion, in view of being fair to Clients who do not engage in abusive practices, to impose special conditions only in the case of particular Clients instead of all Clients where it has valid grounds to believe that the affected Clients may be acting in concert and they might have engaged in or attempted to engage in abusive practices in the past.

- (ii) Suspend Clients' Trading Accounts including freezing of funds and deprive them of and retrieve any profits obtained, in the opinion of the Company, from improper or abusive trading practices. If a Client has already withdrawn the proceeds from a transaction that was improper and / or abusive, the Client shall be considered as holding such money in trust and for the benefit of the Company and therefore shall return immediately the proceeds of the transaction to the Company or otherwise make an equal amount of money available to the Company for the repayment of the obligation due; and/or

- (iii) reject an Order or to cancel a trade when any of the conditions of paragraphs (a) to (g) here above pertain; and/or
- (iv) refuse to execute, in full or partially, any instructions by affected Clients for the withdrawal of funds from their Trading Accounts.
- (v) immediately terminate the trading relationship, as per clause 27B of the Agreement.

9. Electronic Trading

- (1) By accepting this Agreement, the Client is entitled to apply for access codes, within the Company's electronic systems and/or Trading Platform, in Order to be able to give Orders for the purchase or sale of the Financial Instruments by connecting to the internet through a compatible device such as a personal computer, a tablet or a smartphone. The Client acknowledges and understands that the Company reserves the right, at its absolute discretion, to terminate the Client's access to the Company's Trading Platform or part of it in Order to ensure the effective and efficient operation of its systems and in Order to protect its own interests and the interests of its Clients. In such cases, the Company may close any or all Trading Accounts.
- (2) The Client agrees and declares that:
 - (a) the Client will ensure that the Username and Password issued by the Company in relation to the use of the Service(s) will only be used by him/her and will not be disclosed to any other person;
 - (b) the Client shall destroy any written notification of his security information upon receipt;
 - (c) the Client shall avoid choosing numbers, passwords etc. which may be easy to guess, such as birthdays and telephone numbers;
 - (d) the Client shall never write down or record his security information without disguising it, and
 - (e) the Client shall be liable for all Orders given through his security information, and any Orders received in this manner by the Company shall be considered to have been given by the Client.
 - (f) the Client is granted an exclusive and non-assignable right to the use of and access to the Trading Account and acknowledges that it is his/her responsibility to ensure that no other third party, including, without limitation, any next of kin and/or members of his immediate family, shall gain access to and/or trade through the Trading Account assigned to him/her.
 - (g) Frequent access and logins to the Trading Account via different IP addresses from different countries and/or via the use of VPN or VPS is an indication that shall reasonably lead the Company to believe that paragraphs 9(2)(a) and 9(2)(f) have been breached.
- (3) The Client undertakes to notify the Company immediately if the Client notices or has any reason to suspect that:
 - (a) the Client's security information has been learned or may be misused by any person;
 - (b) any unauthorized or irregular transaction was recorded on his Trading Account;
 - (c) an erroneous Order confirmation or any similar inaccurate or conflicting statement or any information;

- (d) the Client became a US Reportable Person or ceased to be a resident within the countries specified in section 2 “Provision of Services – List of Countries” of the present Agreement.
- (4) The Client acknowledges that the provision of the Service(s) may involve information being transported over an open network. Information is therefore transmitted regularly and without control across borders. The Company takes reasonable steps to avoid information being intercepted and read by third parties, by utilizing techniques such as encryption, however it is not always possible to avoid someone other than the Company from gaining access to information about the Client and the Client dealings with the Company.
- (5) The Client acknowledges that the Company will not take action based on the Orders transmitted to the Company for execution by electronic means other than those Orders transmitted using the predetermined electronic means such as the Trading Platform, and the Company shall have no liability towards the Client for failing to take action based on such Orders.
- (6) The Company bears no responsibility for any actions or omissions of third parties, nor does it bear any responsibility for any damage and/or loss and/or expense caused to the Client or third parties as a result of and/or in relation to any aforesaid action or omission.
- (7) The Company is not responsible for any power cuts or failures from the Client’s part that prevent the use of the system and/or the Trading Platform, and cannot be responsible for not fulfilling any obligations under this agreement because of network connection or electricity failures.
- (8) Telephone instructions related to trading activities are currently not permitted. The Company reserves the right, at its discretion, to amend this term in the future.
- (9) Orders can be transmitted to the Company for execution, only within the operating (trading) time. The Client’s Order shall be valid and in accordance with the type and time of the given Order, as specified.
- (10) The Client acknowledges and agrees that the Company has the right to terminate any transaction, at its sole and absolute discretion without providing prior notice to the Client if the underlying asset or contract on which the transaction is based settles on an expiry date as determined by the relevant financial market, in which the said asset is traded (such time referred to as 'Closing Time' and the relevant expiring transaction referred to as an 'Expiring Transaction'). The Company will not be obligated to take actions to roll over an open position in an Expiring Transaction.
- (11) In case of force majeure, the Company may suspend, freeze and/or cancel the Client positions and suspend any trading activities on the Trading Platform, and/or suspend the trading of a particular asset and/or request the revision of the executed transactions.
- (12) If the Client account remains inactive for a period of 90 consecutive days ('Inactive Account'), the account will be charged with a monthly maintenance fee of EUR10 (ten Euro) or the equivalent amount in another currency on the day of deduction of the fee on the unused credit balance. The Client account is considered to be inactive if the Client did not perform any financial activity (i.e. trading on the real (not demo) account or depositing money) in his Trading Account for a period of 90 consecutive days. It should be made clear that any maintenance fees shall not exceed the total balance of such Inactive Account.

10. Refusal of Execution of Orders

- (1) The Client acknowledges that the Company will have the right, at any time and for any reason and without justification, at its sole discretion, to refuse to execute Orders, including, without limitation, in the following circumstances:
 - (a) If the execution of the Order aims or may aim to manipulate the market price of the Financial Instruments (market manipulation), as per clause 8(14);
 - (b) If the execution of the Order constitutes or may constitute abusive exploitation of confidential information (insider trading), as per clause 8(14);
 - (c) If the execution of the Order contributes or may contribute to the legalization of the proceeds of illegal activities (money laundering);
 - (d) If the Client has insufficient funds to cover the purchase of Financial Instruments or if there is an insufficient number of Financial Instruments to cover their sale;
 - (e) If the Client fails to fulfill any of his/her obligations towards the Company under this Agreement;
 - (f) The Company's own exposure levels as set out in the Company's internal policies have been reached in respect of the Financial Instrument or the underlying asset of the Financial Instrument the Client wishes to buy/sell;
 - (g) If the Client seeks to be or became a US Reportable Person or ceased to be a resident of the countries specified in section 2 "Provision of Services – List of Countries" of the present Agreement.
- (2) Any such refusal by the Company shall not affect any obligation, which the Client may have towards the Company and the Company shall not be held liable for any loss incurred by the Client or for any opportunity loss as a result of the Company's refusal to execute a Client's Order.
- (3) The Client acknowledges and agrees that the products offered by the Company may not always be available for purchasing, and it is in the Company's absolute discretion to make these products available or not to the Clients at any time.
- (4) The Company shall not be liable for any loss incurred by the Client or the loss of opportunity as a result of the Company's refusal to execute any of the Client's orders for any of the reasons references in paragraph (1) hereabove or for any other justified reason.

11. Client's Money (Safeguarding)

- (1) Client's funds which will be used for the provision of Service(s) shall be held with the Company in the name of the Client in special Client denominated accounts (further – Bank account) with reliable financial institutions (within or outside Cyprus or the EEA). These funds will be segregated from the Company's funds and shall not be used for any other purpose. The Company will not be held liable for the insolvency, act or omissions of any bank or other third party holding Client's funds.
- (2) The Client's funds in accordance with the provisions of Clause 11(1) may be held with the funds of other Clients in a pooled (omnibus) Bank account, and although segregated from the Company's own funds it may not be segregated from the funds held for other Clients within the relevant Bank account. Consequently, in the event of default on the part of the bank or other institution, which causes a shortfall in the funds held in the pooled Bank account, the Client may share proportionately in that shortfall.
- (3) The Client authorizes the Company to make deposits and/or withdrawals from the Bank account on his behalf including, without prejudice to the generality of the above,

- withdrawals for settlement of all transactions undertaken by this Agreement and all amounts payable by or on behalf of the Client to the Company or to any other third party
- (4) The Company retains a right of set off and may, at its discretion, from time to time and without the Client's authorization, set-off any amounts held on behalf and/or to the credit of the Client against the Client's obligation to the Company and/or merge any accounts of the Client with the Company. Unless otherwise agreed in writing by the Company and the Client, this Agreement shall not give rise to any rights other than those set out herein or to any credit facilities.
 - (5) The Client has the right to withdraw the funds, which are not used for margin covering, free from any obligations from his account without closing the said account. The Client should avoid withdrawing any funds not used for margin covering when the Client is aware or should have been aware that there will be obligations to the Company falling due, for example, when the Client has a short position in Financial Instruments the underlying assets of which are shares due to pay dividends, or as part of any of the abusive strategies or practices of Clause 8(14)(e) here above.
 - (6) The funds transfer (withdrawal from Trading Account) is achieved within 24 hours after receiving from the Client a withdrawal request instruction. Then the transferring amount reduces the balance of the Client's Trading Account on the day the withdrawal request is processed. The Company reserves the right to decline a withdrawal request if the request is not in accordance with this Agreement, or to delay the processing of the request if not satisfied with full documentation of the Client.
 - (7) The Client agrees to pay any incurred bank transfer fees when withdrawing funds from his account to his designated bank account. The Client is fully responsible for the payment details that he has provided to the Company, and the Company accepts no responsibility for the Client's funds if the Client's given details are incorrect. It is also understood that the Company accepts no responsibility for any funds not deposited directly into the Company's bank accounts/Trading Account(s).
 - (8) The Client agrees that any amounts sent by the Client will be deposited to the Trading Account at the value date of the payment received and net of any charges / fees charged by the bank or any other intermediary involved in such transaction process. The Company must be satisfied that the sender is the Client before making any amount available to the Trading Account; otherwise, the Company reserves the right to refund / send back the net amount received to the remitter by the same method as received.
 - (9) Withdrawals should be made using the same method used by the Client to fund his Trading Account and to the same remitter. The Company reserves the right to decline a withdrawal with a specific payment method and to suggest another payment method where the Client needs to complete a new withdrawal request. The Company further reserves the right to request further documentation while processing the Client's withdrawal request. If the Company is not satisfied with any documentation provided by the Client, the Company may reverse the withdrawal transaction and deposit the amount back to the Client's Trading Account.
 - (10) In the event that any amount received in the Bank Accounts is reversed by the Bank Account provider at any time and for any reason, the Company will immediately reverse the affected deposit from the Client's Trading Account and further reserves the right to reverse any other type of transactions effected after the date of the affected deposit. It is understood that these actions may result in a negative balance in all or any of the Client's Trading Account(s).

- (11) The Client acknowledges and agrees that the Company will not pay interest to the Client on funds located on the Trading Account.
- (12) It is understood by the Client that the Company may keep merchant accounts in its name with payment service providers (PSPs). The primary function will be to facilitate and settle payment transactions of its Clients, and it is noted that merchant accounts are not used for safekeeping of Client money.
- (13) The Company will exercise due skill, care and diligence when selecting and appointing financial institutions such as banks or PSPs, especially in cases where these institutions hold Client money. The Company will periodically review, monitor and take into account the financial institution's reputation, integrity and expertise, in addition to its regulatory status. It should be noted that the Company cannot be held liable for any circumstances beyond its control, and as such, is not responsible for any losses the Client may face as a result of the insolvency or failure of the financial institution where Client money is held.
- (14) For the purposes of safeguarding Client money, according to regulation, the Company will:
 - (a) retain accurate corresponding records distinguishing the Client money from its own as well as that of other Clients.
 - (b) conduct on a regular basis reconciliation between its internal accounts and records and those of any third parties by whom those funds are held.
 - (c) keep all Client money segregated from its own funds
 - (d) not use Client money for its own business purposes
 - (e) ensure that Client money deposited into financial institutions is segregated from its own money in clearly identified accounts (Clause 11(1)).
- (15) The financial institution where segregated Client funds will be kept may be within Cyprus or within the EEA. It should be noted that the applicable legislation applied to such financial institutions outside of Cyprus (but within the EEA) may be different from the applicable legislation in Cyprus. In the event of insolvency, your funds may be treated differently from any treatment applicable to funds held in segregated accounts in Cyprus.
- (16) The financial institution, to which we will place your money, may hold it in an omnibus account. Hence, in the event of the insolvency or any other comparable proceedings in relation to that financial institution, we may only have an unsecured claim against the financial institution on your behalf, and you will be exposed to the risk that the money received by us from the financial institution is insufficient to satisfy your claims. It is understood that the Company may hold Client money and the money of other Clients in the same account.

12. Deposits & Withdrawals

- (1) The Client's Trading Account shall be activated upon the deposit of funds.
- (2) The Client is able to deposit funds into his/her account at any time during the course of the business relationship. Deposits can be made through a number of methods as specified on the Company's Website, which may be changed at the Company's discretion. When making a deposit, the Company shall credit the Client's Trading account with the relevant amount.
- (3) The Company prohibits third-party or anonymous payments into the Client's trading account. Only funds sent from an account held in the Client's name and belonging to the Client are acceptable. The Company reserves the right at its discretion, if it has identified third-party or anonymous deposits, to block the account. The Client should note that any remaining funds will be returned to the third-party source via the same payment method (with certain exceptions included in this section and/or within the Company's Agreement) and any profits accumulated by the Client using third-party or anonymous funds will not be made available to the Client.

- (4) The Company reserves the right at its discretion to terminate the Client's trading account where it has identified that the Client's funds and/or payment account(s) have been used to fund a third-party account, and it has reasonable suspicion that the Client and/or third party is circumventing any of the clauses of the present Agreement by doing so and/or is acting in collaboration with a third party circumventing any of the clauses of this Agreement.
- (5) The Company reserves the right to request documentation to confirm the source of funds deposited into the Client's account in accordance with its legal and regulatory obligations.
- (6) The Company may limit the availability of prepaid cards deposits to a maximum amount of USD 8,000 or the equivalent per month, per Client. Upon depositing a total amount of USD 8,000 via prepaid card(s), the Client's ability to further deposit with prepaid card(s) will be suspended until the first day of the next calendar month and the Client is advised to use alternative payment methods such as debit/credit card(s) and/or electronic wallet(s).
- (7) The Client agrees and understands that the Company only accepts valid withdrawal requests submitted by the Client, and the Company reserves the right to cancel a Client's withdrawal request where such withdrawal request is not valid or when it has valid grounds to believe that such a request is part of any of the abusive practices of Clause 18(4)(e). The Company may also refuse to execute a withdrawal request, either in full or partially, when the conditions of Clause 8(12) pertain, and the Client is due to pay to the Company the notional amount of dividend or coupon that accrues to any short positions the Client has in Financial Instruments the underlying assets of which are due to pay cash dividend or coupon.

A withdrawal request is considered to be valid where it meets cumulatively the following conditions:

- (a) the Client must have submitted the required documentation that consists of, inter alia, a copy of his credit/debit card and/or identification documents and
- (b) the Company has approved the required documents submitted by the Client.

The Client will be duly notified by email regarding the cancellation of his/her withdrawal request. The Company will process withdrawals upon receiving a request through the Client's platform. When requesting a withdrawal, the Client should note that the withdrawal of funds will be sent back to the same account via the same method from where the initial deposit was received (e.g. Client deposits $100 to trading account by bank wire, first $100 of withdrawal will be sent via bank wire to the same bank account). The Client is able to request any profit (above his deposit amounts) through other available methods, as long as the account the withdrawal is to be made belongs to the Client. However, there might be some instances where, pursuant to the Company's absolute discretion, the Company may allow a Client to withdraw his/her funds into an account (bank account and/or an e-wallet) other than the one used to deposit funds in the Company's trading account; for example, where it has been identified that the risk of fraud and/or money laundering is determined by the Company as low.

- (8) Withdrawals can only be requested to accounts in the Client's name. No withdrawals will be processed to third-party or anonymous accounts.
- (9) Withdrawals may only be executed within normal trading hours; normal trading hours are defined as the hours that the European and/or the US market operates, i.e. excluding public holidays and midnight hours.

It is also not possible, due to the bespoke nature of CFDs and FXOptions, to receive for safekeeping and custody any such instruments the Client keeps under the safekeeping and custody of any third party.
- (3) In the event of the death of a Client, once the Company confirms the identity of the Client's heirs and their lawful right to the estate of the deceased Client, it shall liquidate any positions the deceased Client had in his / her Trading Account and distribute the proceeds, net of any amounts owed to the Company, to the Client's heirs.
- (4) The Company will, when it is under an obligation to report transactions under Article 9 of EMIR, report or cause the reporting of such transactions, positions held under its safekeeping and custody or the termination of such positions on behalf of its Clients to a trade repository of its choice.
- (5) The Company shall act with diligence and care in the selection and appointment of a central counterparty for any of the Financial Instruments of Clause 14(1) that are under the clearing obligation of Article 4 of EMIR. The Company shall not be liable for any loss suffered by the Client due to any act, omission or the insolvency of the third party central counterparty, unless such loss is the result of gross negligence or fraud by the Company in the appointment or monitoring of the central counterparty.

In case of non-fulfillment of these obligations, the Company shall be entitled not to execute the relevant Order, in whole or in part. If the Company executes such Orders, the Client shall be obliged to immediately pay the difference between the said balance and the cost of the transaction (in case of purchase) or arrange for the acquisition of the Financial Instruments it has sold or ordered the sale of (in case of sale) and to pay the Company's fee, commissions and/or other expenses; otherwise, the Client shall be instantly deemed in default without any further notice and shall be liable for any loss caused to the Company from this delay including loss of profit.
- (2) All assets, including Financial Instruments or funds, which come into the control of the Company on behalf of the Client shall be subject to the Company's right of lien. To this extent, the Company shall be entitled to refuse their delivery to the Client until all the obligations towards the Company are fulfilled. The Company shall not be liable for any losses caused to the Client or to any third party by the exercise of the right of lien or by any other lawful measures, which may be taken by it, in settlement of its claims against the Client, including any future or contingent claims.
- (3) The Client agrees that in case the Company carries out a transaction which is not covered by the balance of the Client's Trading account, the Company shall have the right to liquidate his assets and use the proceeds to cover part or the total difference.
- (4) The Company has the right to refuse to fulfill its obligations under this Agreement, for as long as it maintains any claims against the Client, whether these are due, future or contingent and regardless of whether these arise from the same transaction from which such obligations arise.

18. Other Documents

The Client shall sign any document, which, at the Company's discretion, is considered fair and necessary for the provision of the Service(s) by the Company under this Agreement, including without limitation, for the execution of the Client's Orders and the operation of the Client's funds. Your current version of the Trading Platform enables you to choose between the default mode or the One-Click Trading mode for Order submission. You agree that you will be bound by the procedures and conditions specified herein with respect to each such mode.
 - (a) There are several steps you have to follow when using the default mode for the submission of Orders. Using the default mode, you first invoke the instruments menu and choose the assets you want to trade. Then you select all parameters depending on the instrument you have chosen and confirm your Order submission by clicking either the Buy/Call or Sell/Put button depending on the particular Order type selected and your trading intentions. When using the default mode, a confirmation window will appear, and you will have to confirm your intentions and the trade details in order to confirm the transaction. Your Order will not be submitted until you have completed the aforementioned procedure.
 - (b) The One-Click Trading mode for Order submission ("One-click trading") is a one-step process. You will be submitting Orders when you single-click either the Buy/Call or Sell/Put button.
- (2) There will be no subsequent confirmation prompt for you to click; hence you should ensure beforehand that all parameters are set based on your trading intentions. You will not be able to withdraw your Order once you click the Buy/Call or Sell/Put button, and only certain parameters such as stop loss and take profit Orders for CFDs can be modified after having opened a trade.
